Dear our precious families and friends,

The Chan Family, Kenneth, Florence and Michael extend our best wishes for a peaceful Christmas and look forward to sharing a joyful new year.

We desire the coming year 2009 for peace within your heart; love from family and friends; faith to guide your way; hope to make it through each day; sunshine to light your day and strength to face the challenge as we celebrate the birth of Jesus this Christmas.

Thank you for your continual contact and interest in our well being, and we treasure each and every one of you.

Much love and many blessings.

The Chan Family Update

2008 has passed so quickly. It is reflected through Ken and Florence's celebration of our 50th birthdays. We together have lived for a century. Michael is a 20-year-old adult in a month's time. He is cruising in his life and is quick as well, on his sport bike.

Year in a glance

Michael has finished his second year in the Uni (USQ) in Psychology. He has entered a new stage in his life: commencing 3rd year university; a full grown adult; having permanent part time job with Wesley Hospital; driving his own motor bike; making own decision and thrilling in speed. Yet as parents we look forward to his maturity and faith in the Lord.

Florence and Kenneth visited Cambodia in August for a mission trip. It was overwhelming in seeing the appalling poverty and the historical pain but it was grateful to see the hope a new generation is unshackled and regenerate with the love and care by many missionary agencies working in this country.

Looking ahead

This year marks our 15 years living in Australia. We see our son grown up in adulthood and us gone into aged. We've made a lot of new friends but said good-bye to many. We are looking to changes these days. Florence is heavily involved in church ministry and so as Kenneth. We are in anticipation to go to the field and hoping Michael can join us one day.

Thankfully our health is still keeping us to serve and we wish it can continue to do so.

In 2009 we look forward for a year of moving forward.

We hope this email finds you well and please know that you are in our thoughts.
